

This is tomorrow calling...

RadioStation Rugby, known locally at the old mast site, was once home to the world's most powerful radio transmitter, reaching out to people across the globe. The site will now connect people in a whole new way as its legacy underpins its future. Here's what the future will bring –

473 hectares	 1 time capsule, not to be opened before 2035
 6,200 new homes	 three new primary schools
 13,850m approx network of footpaths	 network of cycle paths
 a new link road	 district centre & 3 local centres
 one new secondary school	 31 hectares of employment
 2,900m² community facilities	 8 GP surgeries
 205 hectares of informal open space	 24 hectares of formal open spaces & sports pitches

To keep up to date with the development, visit www.radiostationrugby.com

DESIGN YOUR VERY OWN HOUSE OF THE FUTURE...

AND YOU COULD WIN FAMILY TICKETS TO THE MINISTRY OF SCIENCE SHOW AT RUGBY FAN ZONE ON WEDNESDAY 28TH OCTOBER...

Three prize-winning designs will also be included in a time-capsule that will be buried at RadioStation Rugby next year.

So come on, get busy. Use your imagination and sketch out your ideas on this entry form. Things to think about might include:

- How houses might look like in the future?
- What sort of technology we might have in our houses in the future?

Feel free to write notes too, so you can explain all your ideas about the technology of the future.

- To enter:
1. Draw your picture and write your notes on the entry form on the reverse of this page.
 2. Complete your details in the 'entry details' box.
 3. Return your completed drawing to your teacher by 19th October 2015.
